Notes to the Annual Report

The Company's site has been acquired for business lease purposes. The purpose of the property is to achieve a profit by way of rental income exclusive of expenses related to the letting business and, in the long term, to achieve a capital gain. Investment properties are treated as long-term investments and are recognised at fair value.

Recognition at fair value is based on a third-party assessment made by the real estate agents Sadolin & Albæk A/S, dated December 2015.

The most significant fair value assumption is an estimated net selling price of the building right per square metre of DKK 2,550 (2014: DKK 2,200).

The basic price has increased due to the low rate of interest and the increased capital abundance. Further, the rental market for industrial facilities is currently improving.

The fair value adjustment is recognised in the income statement under the item "Value adjustments of assets held for investment".

Accounting Policies

Balance Sheet

Investment properties

Investment properties constitute land and buildings held to earn a return on the invested capital by way of current operating income and/or capital appreciation on sale.

On acquisition investment properties are measured at cost comprising the acquisition price and costs of acquisition. The cost of own constructed investment properties comprises the acquisition price and expenses directly related to the acquisition, including costs of acquisition and indirect expenses for labour, materials, components and suppliers up until the time when the asset is ready for use.

Interest expenses on loans contracted directly for financing the construction of investment properties are recognised in cost over the construction period.

After the initial recognition investment properties are measured at fair value. Value adjustments of investment properties are recognised in the income statement.

Fair value is the amount for which the property could be exchanged between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm's length transaction on the balance sheet date. The determination of fair value involves material accounting estimates.

In Management's opinion it has not been possible to determine fair value through market information for the year and, consequently, valuation has been made based on a calculated value of building rights.

The fair value is made up by management together with real property advisors. For the purpose of estimating the market value of building rights per sqm floor space the residual value is calculated, i.e. the estimated sales price less costs relating to construction, development, hook-up, marketing, various advisory fees, interest during construction as well as a developer's fee.

Receivables

Receivables are recognised in the balance sheet at amortised cost, which substantially corresponds to nominal value. Provisions for estimated bad debts are made.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities

Deferred income tax is measured using the balance sheet liability method in respect of temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes on the basis of the intended use of the asset and settlement of the liability, respectively.

Deferred tax assets, including the tax base of tax loss carry-forwards, are measured at the value at which the asset is expected to be realised, either by elimination in tax on future earnings or by set-off against deferred tax liabilities within the same legal tax entity.

Accounting Policies

Deferred tax is measured on the basis of the tax rules and tax rates that will be effective under the legislation at the balance sheet date when the deferred tax is expected to crystallise as current tax. Any changes in deferred tax due to changes to tax rates are recognised in the income statement.

Current tax receivables and liabilities

Current tax liabilities and receivables are recognised in the balance sheet as the expected taxable income for the year adjusted for tax on taxable incomes for prior years and tax paid on account. Extra payments and repayment under the on-account taxation scheme are recognised in the income statement in financial income and expenses.
